QUEST WORLD SQUARE – THE NEW STANDARD IN SYDNEY ACCOMMODATION

Consolidating its expansion into NSW, Quest Serviced Apartments has opened its prime CBD property in the heart of Sydney.

Quest World Square comprises 72 serviced apartments across eight levels in the Aspect residential tower located in Cunningham Street.

Right in the middle of the World Square retail action, the property will further boost the area which is undergoing a transformation and soon be a burgeoning lifestyle precinct at the southern end of the CBD.

Based on the Quest ethos of providing a 'home from home experience' for the corporate traveller, Mark Rondo, Quest World Square franchisee says that this property has hit the market at the right time.

"Sydney has been in need of a new accommodation option for a long time. The opportunity to provide two bedroom apartments in particular, to the corporate market, means that we will be fulfilling the needs of the discerning business traveller."

Mark along with co-franchisees Spencer Bailey and Valentin Corchado are excited about Quest World Square and its product offering.

"This is an exciting time for us. World Square is our third venture under the Quest umbrella and has been under development for five years – so we anticipate a high level of interest.

"Already bookings are promising and the team is geared to provide a level of service that is commensurate with the high standards of this beautiful property," said Mark.

Quest World Square comprises stylishly appointed apartments ranging from two-bedroom with twin key to one bedroom and studios.

The four and a half STAR property provides a range of amenities including breakfast packs and select restaurant charge-backs, business administration services, pantry shopping, and, valet dry cleaning. Guests will also have exclusive use of a swimming pool and fully equipped gymnasium.

Quest Serviced Apartments offer a comprehensive range of accommodation solutions across more than 120 properties throughout Australia, New Zealand and Fiji. The Aspect Tower proved to be an ideal location for the Quest Group because of its centrality and close proximity to a wide range of amenities including Chinatown, the Entertainment Centre, Market City, Darling Harbour with its restaurants and entertainment, Sydney Convention and Exhibition Centre, Hyde Park and Sydney's Central Railway Station.

The Central CBD with its major department stores and fashion boutiques, the Queen Victoria Building shopping complex, and Surry Hills with its cafes, bars and restaurants are just ten minutes walking distance from the property. Public transport links are available to almost every other Sydney location from nearby George Street.

Quest chairman and founder, Mr Paul Constantinou says that one of the key factors in Quest's success is its property locations.

"We choose new locations on the basis of existing or strongly emerging corporate demand, and we are confident that Quest World Square, on the doorstep of Australia's busiest capital city, will fulfil the needs of international and domestic clients, and in turn be a tremendous success," said Mr Constantinou.

Quest is Australia's largest and most successful serviced apartment operator with more than 120 serviced apartment complexes located across Australia, New Zealand and Fiji. Quest.
